

IDOL'S PIA CAUGHT IN LOVE TRIANGLE
 — with Stefano and DWTS' Mark

Star

BREAKING NEWS!

Milge & Lamar

A Baby
for Kate &
William

PREGNANT BRIDE!

PALACE
TATLETALE
TALKS TO
STAR

- * Announcement for the honeymoon
- * If it's a girl, they'll name her Diane

THE HONEYMOON IS OVER!

- Appointments for sex
- Lamar's meddling ex
- Khloe in tears

NOV. 11, 2011

EXCUSE
Taylor
Armstrong

ANOREXIC?

HER PLASTIC SURGERY SECRET IS OUT!

Angie's

NEW

BEAUTY is in the eye of the beholder — and Angelina Jolie doesn't like what she sees! "Angie started realizing that her face was showing her age and her body just isn't as firm as it used to be," a family insider tells Star. "She's worried Brad might be noticing, too."

"Angelina has a bit of a belly that she never had before," adds another source. "And even though she's only 35, all she can focus on are her wrinkles and imperfections." Wasting no time dealing with the changes, the actress has already dropped around $300,000 on her personal quest to stop the clock! "She's very vain and has undergone so many procedures," says the source.

ANGELINA'S CONSTANT VIGIL

According to the family insider, Angelina has had everything from a chin implant to a breast lift, worrying that nursing her and Brad Pitt's now 2-year-old twins, Knox and Vivienne, had taken a toll on her once perky chest. And the source reveals that the actress has added Botox, Restylane and Radiseve injections to her considerable arsenal of tricks in the fight against time. "She's definitely had fillers," notes NYC-based plastic surgeon Dr. Norman Rowe, who has not treated Angelina. "It also looks like she's had work done under her eyes, either a filler or laser treatment to lighten and tighten the skin."

The star is open to trying anything — and that includes "acupuncture face-lifts" that are believed to ward off wrinkles and make patients appear younger in mere minutes, reveals the insider. "Angie is obsessed with looking perfect, so nothing is too bizarre."

Besides going under the knife and needle, Angelina does constant maintenance to protect her pricey investment. "She has personalized facials" with top esthetician Cristina Rada, says the insider of the treatments that cost about $250. That's cheap change for Angelina, who doesn't think twice about dropping thousands of dollars on body and face products, like Crème de la Mer's moisturizing cream that can run $1,650 for a 16.5 oz. container.

It isn't simply vanity that is pushing Angelina, who is slated to start shooting the role of historic beauty Cleopatra later this year, to be picture perfect. "Secretly she really worries that Brad will trade her in for a younger and fresher version of her — this is the most insecure that she's been in the seven years they've been together," says the insider.

It's no surprise. As Star has reported, in March Angelina flew on the spur of the moment to the New

June
2009

Less than two years ago, Angelina "looked tired and haggard," Dr. Rowe tells Star, adding he believes she has since had a lot of work done.

“Angie is obsessed with looking perfect.”

— an insider tells Star

FACE!

Feeling insecure about looking older, Angelina Jolie is on a quest to turn back time — and keep Brad Pitt!

April 2011

While in Tunisia, Angelina showed off a fresh face — and yet another tattoo! Along with the birthplace coordinates of her six kids, she etched the location of 47-year-old Brad's hometown of Shawnee, Okla.

NEW TATTOO!

WHEN ANGIE'S AWAY... BRAD WILL PLAY

On April 3, Angelina flew to North Africa on a United Nations goodwill mission, stripping Brad with the kids in L.A. But the very next night after she left, Brad and a pal hit the town — with a vengeance! Looking worse for the wear, Brad was spotted leaving organic restaurant Alucha in Culver City, Calif. "He was really, really happy," one eyewitness tells Star, noting the actor washed down wild mushroom pizza, asparagus and potato gnocchi with several beers. "He couldn't wipe the smile off his face the entire night!" Despite being thousands of miles away, Angelina still kept close tabs on her man. "She called him at least twice while he was at the restaurant," says an insider. "She is so suspicious lately and absolutely fumes when he goes out partying with his friends."

Orleans set of Brad's new movie Coplan's Trade after hearing whispers about him and his sexy 23-year-old costar, Hells Bells Heathcote. Angelina was still in her 20s when she lured Brad away from a then 35-year-old Jennifer Aniston — and she's well aware the same could happen to her, points out the source. "She is taking no chances."

But she could be risking it when it comes to her looks. "She's one of the most beautiful women in Hollywood, but she needs to take a break with all the procedures before she goes too far," warns the source. "Sometimes letting yourself age gracefully can be just as beautiful as trying to look young forever."

—TIM PLANT

HEIDI PARKER, JENNIFER PEARSON & JENNIFER KURTI

time. “She’s definitely had fillers,” notes NYC-based plastic surgeon Dr. Norman Rowe, who has not treated Angelina. “It also looks like she’s had work done under her eyes, either a filler or laser treatments to lighten and tighten the skin.”

StarMix

Audrina Patridge

KNIFESTYLES BOOB EDITION

44% of a nice job and the size fits her frame?? —Dr. Rowe tells Star

1 Audrina Patridge: a natural woman, as she'd like people to believe? Although the reality star said recently that when it comes to cosmetic procedures she's never "done anything" to her body, Star's plastic surgery press say: Not true! Two different doctors agree that Audrina — whose new VH1 show, Audrina, premieres April 17 — has indeed gone under the knife for a breast augmentation. "It appears as if she went from an A cup to a C cup," NYC-based plastic surgeon Dr. Norman Rowe, who has not treated Audrina, tells Star. "She had implants placed in through the axilla or arilla [armpit] incision. They look as if they are over the muscle." Dr. Mark Schwartz, also a Manhattan surgeon who has not treated the star, echoes the belief that Audrina boosted her bust. "It looks like she has a visible implant edge in the cleavage, and there is accentuated superior pole fullness." Although Dr. Rowe thinks Audrina's implants are a little too low, both docs agree they're a good fit for her body. Says Dr. Schwartz: "Audrina is a beautiful young woman who looks great in a bikini!"

Is Audrina Patridge a natural woman, as she'd like people to believe? Although the reality star said recently that when it comes to cosmetic procedures she's never "done anything" to her body, Star's plastic surgery pros say: Not true! Two different doctors agree that Audrina — whose new VH1 show, Audrina, premieres April 17 — has indeed gone under the knife for a breast augmentation. "It appears as if she went from an A cup to a C cup," NYC-based plastic surgeon Dr. Norman Rowe, who has not treated Audrina, tells Star. "She had